For most of us, managing our money can be an unwelcome burden. Maneuvering our way through the quagmire of the all the investment options, stock, bond etc. can be extremely confusing and daunting. The option of handing over our hard-earned money to somebody else can also be unsettling.

Fortunately, amidst the unscrupulous shysters, I had the good fortune to interact with a rare gem of an ethical, responsible, empathetic money manager, Pradeep Niphadkar. Through the last quarter century of extreme financial volatility and turbulence, he has managed to navigate through the hard times and not only retain wealth, but also grow it considerably. His style of aggressive conservatism has borne excellent results in every kind of market. Now his wealth management company has the addition of Yash Niphadkar, another well qualified manager, who, I am sure, will continue the tradition.

I have no reservations in recommending him to anybody who is looking for a trustworthy wealth management specialist
